FRANKFORT, KY., MARCH 6, 1880.

NUMBER 24

The usual services will be held at the Presbyterian Church to-morrow by the pastor. All are invited.

Elder J. S. Sweeney, of Paris, will preach at the Christian Church to-morrow morning and night. All are cordially invited.

The interests of this city demand a free bridge connecting North and South Frankfort. Will the Council have it built?

The City Clerk reports $1,474 07 in the treasury to the credit of the colored school fund, being the amount of taxes paid by the colored people of this city for the years 1878-9.

The Great London Renovator has his headquarters at the Griffin House. He is doing a big business in dyeing, cleaning and repairing clothes, and gives general satisfaction.

Three members of the present City Council have declared themselves in favor of building a free bridge across Kentucky river at this point. Let us have a free bridge by all means.

Our merchants are making preparations for a big spring trade. They should always keep in mind that they can get more advertising in the ROUNDABOUT for less money than by any other means.

Dr. W. H. Hall brought to this office yesterday a bunch of as fine asparagus as was ever grown in this section. He has had asparagus every month this winter. He will accept our thanks for this kind remembrance of us.

The National Mutual Benefit Association is the name of an insurance order which pays $4,000 on the death of a member. No monthly dues, no lodge fees, no meetings. See Capt. E. H. Taylor, who is agent for it, and he will tell you all about it.

The celebrated Oofy Gooft combination will appear at Major Hall, in this city, next Wednesday evening, March 10, in the great play of "Under the Gaslight." This is a first-class company, and the play will be presented in the highest style of the art. Numerous changes have been made in the play since it was last rendered in this city, and all who attend will surely be pleased. Go and see Dryden and secure your seats in time.

Bridgeport.

Mrs. Betsey Daniel is very ill.

Mr. L. Abbot has moved to Anderson county.

Mr. Otho Wheat has sold his lot of 40 fat hogs.

The farmers are busily engaged in preparing for the summer campaign.

Mr. James Sargent and Miss Gussie Crockett left last Monday for Reed Island, Virginia.

Taylor Parrent has very much improved his business by adding thereto a select stock of dry goods.

The temperance cause in this section needs reviving. Can't Frankfort send us some workers?

Mr. Henry Maston and family, Woodford county, have been visiting relatives in this vicinity this week.

Regular services at South Benson Church to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock—Rev. T. J. Stevenson, pastor.

Mr. Churchill Bailey sold a pair of mules last Monday for the snug sum of $300 cash. We were unable to learn the name of the purchaser. MACK.

Dance at Mr. David Allison's Tuesday night.

Miss Kate Jenkins is visiting relatives at Hardinsville.

Miss Annie Sheets has returned from a visit to Shelby county.

Fences were blown down during the heavy storms of Thursday night.

Capt. F. M. Scofield has returned from a visit to his brother-in-law, Mr. Ben. Edwards, a veteran soldier of the Mexican war, at Copper's Depot, Shelby county.

Belle Point.

Mr. Jack Smith and family have moved from town.

Mr. Nat. McDaniel's little boy, Ulysses, is quite ill with diphtheria.

Top spinning is the favorite amusement now with the small boy over here.

One of our young ladies received ten valentines, and still she is not happy.

Mr. F. P. Lewis returned from Louisville Thursday, whither he'd gone to purchase spring goods.

Now our town wants gas. Well, we need a lamp, or light of some kind, at Benson bridge.

The most of our citizens are pretty well supplied with drift wood, caught on the recent high tide.

Mr. McKee Hardie, of Lawrenceburg was visiting relatives and friends here the first of the week.

Mr. Tim. Forbes moved to South Frankfort Thursday. He contemplates building there early in the spring.

The Champion Saw-mill is fairly booming now. Eight car loads of lumber were shipped from there this week.

Miss Parmelia Collins, a very fascinating young lady of Taylor county, will spend a few months with her cousin, Miss Florence Collins, near town.

Judge Pence employed his engine in pulling two oak rafts of logs out of the eddy at the mouth of Benson Wednesday afternoon, which was the only way they could be moved.

Col. S. V. Pence and wife arrived Wednesday, after having been absent about two weeks attending to the building of his saw-mill boat on Flat creek, which will be completed now in a few weeks.

The City Council met Tuesday night. We were unable to get a report of the meeting, but hope they provided for repairing of the sidewalk at Benson bridge, which is very dangerous these dark nights.

One Step Forward.

The Police Judge of the city of Frankfort had all the police summoned to appear at his office at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and when they had all arrived he proceeded to talk with them about their duties as officers and citizens. He said he had no desire to have them act as spies, but it was their duty to inquire into and report any violations of the city ordinances of which they might hear. He called their attention especially to the reported existence of gambling halls in this city, and urged them to be on the alert for these places and take such action as would bring the offenders to justice. He also directed their attention to the fact that the law in relation to selling liquor to minors was being daily violated, and asked that some measures be taken to discover who the violators are. He instructed them to arrest boys who loitered about the depot, as also persons who get on and off the platforms of the cars while in motion, unless they have business on the cars.

City Attorney Hugh Rodman was present, and read several city ordinances to the assembled officers, and asked that they exercise more diligence in trying to discover the violators of the law. He said he had heard of chicken fighting having been engaged in within the limits of the city, and the persons thus offending ought to be sought out and punished according to law. He further said that the ordinance prohibiting the discharge of firearms within the corporate limits was violated constantly, and should be stopped without unnecessary delay.

Judge Sneed then instructed the police to arrest any person guilty of fast riding or driving on the streets; that the practice had become quite common and was exceedingly dangerous to pedestrians.

The City Attorney told the police that loud complaints were made of the constant violations of the Sunday Law, and that persons who were guilty of such violations should be reported and dealt with according to law. When men take out license to sell liquor they take an oath and give a bond that they will faithfully comply with the requirements of the law, and they should be compelled to do it. At the time they get their license they know that there are certain restrictions by which they shall be governed, and they have no special privileges to sell on Sundays, or to sell to minors and persons who are in the habit of getting drunk.

Judge Sneed asked the officers to go to the City Clerk and get a copy each of the city ordinances, and read them carefully, so as to familiarize themselves with them and thus be better prepared to perform their duties with intelligence and fidelity.

Altogether it was a profitable meeting, and will, no doubt, be productive of much good. The talks were friendly, but plain and to the point, and the police now have an intelligent understanding of their duties, and the people will expect to see a different state of affairs in Frankfort.

Henry Duvall is handling some very fine fresh fish at Gray & Rodman's. He receives them daily, and is selling them cheap.

The stable of Mr. W. J. Chinn was destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock this morning. Two fine Alderney calves, for which Mr. Chinn had paid $55 apiece a few days ago, a good buggy, and a large lot of provender were burned in the stable. The loss is about $1,000, with no insurance. The fire is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Officer Jack Long met with a painful accident, though not serious, Wednesday noon. He was getting up from the dinner table when the hammer of a pistol in his pocket struck the table, causing the load to be discharged. The ball entered his right thigh near the hip joint, and was cut out near the knee, making a bad flesh wound. He is getting along quite well.

Personal.

Gov. Jas. B. McCreary has been in the city this week.

Mr. Geo. L. Payne left Wednesday morning for Louisville, where he has gone to prospect for business.

Miss Annie Monroe, after an absence of several months in Tennessee, returned home Wednesday morning.

Misses Vene Herndon and Maggie Page went to Covington Wednesday morning for a visit to friends in that city.

Miss Addie Barclay, a charming young lady of Fayette county, is in the city the guest of Miss Scottie Chinn.

Mr. I. Davis, the Market street clothier, left for Cincinnati Tuesday afternoon to lay in a supply of spring goods.

Hon. Fountain Fox Bobbitt, the Cicero of the mountains, is in town dispensing smiles and kind words among his friends.

Mr. Jno. P. Starks, of Crutcher & Starks, has gone to New York to purchase spring goods for the mammoth Clothing House.

Mr. Cloudas Meek, who has been in Kansas and Missouri for the past few months, returned home Wednesday morning.

Miss Maggie Clay, a beautiful brunette of Paris, returned home yesterday morning after a short visit to friends in South Frankfort.

Little Miss Ettie Smith has recovered from a long spell of illness. She has been confined for about six weeks with pneumonia.

Miss Lizzie Jacob, who has been visiting friends in the city for about two months, returned to her home in Louisville last Saturday.

Mr. R. K. McClure left for the East Thursday to purchase a spring stock of boots and shoes for the firm of R. K. McClure & Bro.

Mr. John Dryden went to Cincinnati Tuesday afternoon to purchase a stock of goods for his Post-office News Depot. He returned yesterday.

Major Will Starling, who has been visiting relatives in the city for the past month, left for his home near Sunny Side, Ark., Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Stephen Moyers and family left Wednesday for Georgia, where they will reside in future, much to the regret of a large circle of friends in this city.

Esquire D. O. Robinson, of Benson Depot, was married in Lexington on Thursday to Miss Monie Hopper of that city. The newly married pair passed through this city on the west bound train the same day.

Mr. Charles Exum graduated at the law school of the Louisville University last week, and is now with his relatives and friends in and near this city. He has determined to locate in Frankfort for the purpose of practicing his profession.

Business in the Police Court was quite dull during the month of February.

Anything from a little dodger to a book can be printed at the ROUNDABOUT office in good style and on very short notice.

The foundation for the fine monument to be erected on the lot of Mr. H. Berry in the Frankfort cemetery has been completed.

Landreth's world-renowned garden seeds are kept for sale, in bulk and in papers, by Mr. Jos. LeCompte, at the South Side drug store.

Dr. W. H. Averill has on hand a very fine supply of fine garden seeds from the famous establishment of David Landreth & Sons.

Criminal Court begun in this city last Monday. Judge McManama's charge to the Grand Jury was exceptionally fine, and very impressive.

There were eleven interments in the Frankfort Cemetery during the month of February, seven of which were white persons, and four colored.

Messrs. Day & Haif are selling an extra choice article of hemp seed. Farmers in need of seed will do well to call and examine it before purchasing.

It is said that there will be a grand masquerade hop at Capital Hotel next Friday night, 12th inst., under the auspices of the Assembly Ball Club.

You are earnestly requested to attend the temperance meeting at the court-house to-night. The meeting will be called to order promptly at half past seven o'clock.

The ROUNDABOUT office is supplied with a fine assortment of type, and job work can be had here in as good style and at as low prices as at any other first-class printing office.

A great many members of the Legislature talk favorably about granting the city the privilege of converting Capitol Square into a city park. Let it be done by all means.

Bar-rooms will be opened as usual to-morrow. No extra charge for Sunday drinks. The public is cordially invited to step in and "smile." Entrance at the side or back of the rum shops.

Whitesides & McEwan are doing a regular "warehouse business" in the wall-paper line. They have just received another large stock of beautiful patterns in wall-paper. Call and see it.

A free bridge across Kentucky river at this point would bring a big trade to Frankfort from portions of Anderson and Shelby counties.

Messrs. N. F. & O. T. Richardson are doing a thriving grocery business in South Frankfort. Besides keeping a fine stock of everything in their line, they are reliable and prompt. Give them a call.

The crowd in town last Monday, County Court-day, was the largest that has been seen in Frankfort for many a day. There was no stock on the market except a few horses—mostly "hacks," that went at nominal prices—and one or two milch cows. The usual amount of "rot" was consumed, and several of "the boys" were locked up in the castle on the side of Fort Hill.

There is no use in passing an ordinance unless its provisions are to be respected — Yoman of Wednesday.

So say we, Major, and we are glad you have said it. Now give us a little lift, and let us see what we can accomplish together towards having rum shops closed up on Sundays in this city. You are respectfully referred to city ordinances Nos. 33 and 34, with the request that you advocate their rigid enforcement through the columns of your paper. Will you do it?

One of the ministers of this city said last Sunday, that in ancient times the rose was typical of woman—large, healthy, robust, pretty; but now the lilies of the field were better types of the women of to-day—frail, delicate, beautiful; for "they toil not, neither do they spin: And yet I say unto you, that even Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

That preacher has evidently been reading the descriptions of the ladies' dresses worn at the Assembly Ball Club hops.

The Assembly Ball Club is running on high moral principles. Two members of the Club were excluded from the ball-room a few weeks ago for having imbibed too freely, and at a called meeting of the Club Tuesday night it was ordered that three other members be required to go in company with a committee, appointed for that purpose, and apologize to Mr. and Mrs. McLean, of the Capital Hotel, for some of their thoughtlessness a few nights since. It is intended that the affairs of this Club shall be properly conducted at any cost.

Rev. F. H. Hodges died at his residence near Peak's Mill, in this county, on Thursday of last week, aged seventy years, after a long and painful illness. For more than forty years he had been a minister of the Baptist Church, laboring earnestly in this and adjoining counties in the cause of Christ, and had been the means of turning many hundred souls from the error of their way to seek after a newness of life, and in his death the church he so dearly loved has sustained a great loss. He was an ardent advocate of temperance, and never allowed an opportunity to strike a blow in behalf of the cause to pass without taking advantage of it, and to him many who are now leading lives of sobriety owe their salvation from a drunkard's doom. He leaves a wife and a large family of children to mourn his loss. His funeral took place from his late residence, and was largely attended, the services being conducted by Rev. Dr. Cad. Lewis.

The steamer Valley came up Thursday afternoon with a barge in tow heavily laden with grain and other freight.

Messrs. Crutcher & Starks, the capital clothiers, forwarded Thursday morning to Messrs. M. G. Barlow, Geo. Wilson, and H. G. Primrose, the great minstrels, the fine suits of clothes recently ordered of them.

The City Council already has authority from the Legislature to issue bonds for the purpose of erecting a free bridge across Kentucky river, and it now only remains to issue the bonds and have the bridge built at once. Let us have the free bridge.

A free bridge from the foot of Shelby street, South Side, to a point opposite in North Frankfort would enhance the value of real estate in that vicinity not less than fifty per cent., and the city would, within a few years, realize enough money from the corresponding increase in revenue from taxation to pay for it.

The matter of posting the names of the streets on the street corners, and numbering the houses and lots in this city was brought up in the Council meeting Tuesday night, and referred to the Street Committee with power to act. The chairman of that committee says they are going to work immediately and have it done.

The election Tuesday night of Mr. David Kirkpatrick as night policeman is one of the best acts of the present Council. His popularity as an officer was evidenced in the Council immediately after his election by a clamoring among the members to have him put on duty on the beat in which they live. No more efficient and trustworthy officer ever served the city than Dave Kirkpatrick.

Mr. M. H. P. Williams, jr., has associated himself with the firm of Bowen & Holton, which will hereafter be known as J. H. Bowen & Co., dealers in agricultural and mechanical implements. Their business has been removed from Ann street to a house on Market street, next door to Jno. Kiernan's grocery, where they will be glad to see and serve their friends and the public generally.

A new telephone line has been established in this city between Major Hall and Dr. T. L. Taylor's office. Great crowds of young ladies go to Dr. Taylor's office daily and entertain our handsome City Clerk for an indefinite length of time by conversing with him through the telephone. He has not yet had time to arrange his hours for "receiving," but will doubtless select the time from two to five o'clock, p. m. Due notice will be given.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Sundry petitions presented and appropriately disposed of.

Petition of sundry citizens, asking that the names of the streets be painted and posted in conspicuous places on every street corner, and that the houses and lots be numbered, was presented and referred to Street Committee with power to act.

Petition of J. Stoddard Johnston and others asking for a street crossing on Bridge street at the intersection of Second, South Side, was granted.

Petition of Guy Barrett asking for a pavement on the north side of Campbell street, between Shelby and Main, South Side, was granted.

T. B. Ford appeared in behalf of the colored citizens, and asked the Council to withdraw its objection to the passage of a bill before the Legislature looking to the establishing of a high school in this city for the benefit of colored children.

Councilman Bryan moved that the matter of taxes paid into the city treasury since 1878 by the colored citizens be referred to the Finance Committee with instructions to have the amount transferred to the credit of the colored school fund.

Councilman Bryan, from the Finance Committee, made a report on Jno. Haly's claims, and moved that taxes that have been twice paid be refunded to the persons in whose names the receipts were given.

Councilman Tobin moved that the Council do now go into

EXECUTIVE SESSION.

Councilman Bryan moved the position held by J. T. Larkin as night policeman in South Frankfort be declared vacant. Adopted.

Nominations to fill the vacancy being in order, Councilman Church nominated D. Kirkpatrick; Councilman Duval nominated Henry Gayle; Councilman Luscher nominated lawyer Henry Gillis.

D. Kirkpatrick received 5 votes; Henry Gayle received 1 vote; lawyer Henry Gillis received 1 vote; and then D. Kirkpatrick was declared duly elected.

The Mayor and Clerk certified ex-City Marshal Lee's quietus in open Council.

Councilman Bryan moved that a statement of the city's finances be prepared and published under the direction of the Finance Committee. Adopted.

Councilman Bryan presented an account of $125 from Hugh Rodman, City Attorney, for services in Owens' cases in Franklin Circuit Court.

Councilman Tobin moved that he be allowed $100. Adopted.

Councilman Bryan moved that the Street Committee be instructed to look into the cases of Owens and citizens on Holmes streets, and make such repairs as are necessary.

Councilman Duval moved that the Mayor and Clerk be directed to have the Council chamber repaired and put in good condition—papered, painted, carpeted, &c. Adopted.

Claims were allowed amounting in the aggregate to about $1,000, and then the Council adjourned.
